

ABSTRACT OF THE INVENTION

The invention relates to a spotlight apparatus with solar power, 5 which includes a container. One side of the container is provided a spotlight and a plane composed by many solar plates to store energy and to provide power for the spotlight at night. Another side of the container can be provided with plants or any statues, which can be lightened at night to show its special decorative effect.
